WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Charley Brand, one of the powers in the Agricultural Adjustment Association, is a genial soul, but he has a remarkable fondness for storing up trouble for himself.

His latest faux pas, in any other administration, would have been enough to bring a resignation. Today it did.

During the summer, Charley sent out letters to members of the National Fertilizer Association, inviting them to attend the annual convention at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. Among the attractions offered to induce attendance was a list of speakers on which was the name of "Charles Brand—co-administrator of the Agriculture Adjustment Administration."

That was all right. No one objects to any government official making speeches.

But the letter was signed: "Charles Brand, executive secretary of the National Fertilizer Association."

Now it is a fixed rule that no official can hold a private job unless it is clearly shown it does not conflict with the government job. It is Charley Brand's job as co-administrator of the A. A. A. to fight for the interests of the farmer, to tax the processors in behalf of the farmer. But as secretary of the National Fertilizer Association, it is Charley Brand's job to sell fertilizer to the farmers.

The situation has become one of the most talked of incidents of the agricultural department.

STAMPS AND POLITICS

One member of the present administration owes his job to the Roosevelt passion for postage stamps.

Alvin W. Hall has been retained as director of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving despite the fact that he is a hanger-on of the old Reed Smoot dynasty—and all because of postage stamps.

BIRTHDAY OF WOMAN 101 TO BE FETED

The 101st birthday anniversary of Mrs. Abigail "Abbie" Joan Linnell of Richmond, will be celebrated here Thursday with five generations of the Linnell family present.

Little Beverly Jean Whittlesey, one month old, great-granddaughter of the honored guest, will be one of the guests at the party.

Mrs. Linnell became a great-grandmother when Beverly Jean was born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whittlesey of Martinez on August 21.

Mrs. Linnell was born September 21, 1832, at Sparta, Ont., Canada, a small town near St. Thomas when Andrew Jackson was the president of the United States.

"Many people could live long," she said, "if they would live right."

She gave the following as the "secret" to long life. Keep regular hours; don't get angry and don't quarrel; for if one quarrels he hurts himself more than the person at whom he is angered; eat three meals daily, but don't eat between meals.

Mrs. Linnell will celebrate her birthday at a reception at the home (Continued on Page 3)

MILLIONS ARE INVOLVED IN 8 TAX CASES

The United States District court in San Francisco, yesterday handed down a decision that is very far reaching and will affect every oil company in the state that has pipe lines.

The court decided that Standard Oil company must pay to the federal government more than a million and a half dollars in taxes on its pipe lines, in so doing the court laid the foundation for the recovery by the Government of about $6,000,000 from the Standard, Shell and Associated Oil companies and the Southern Pacific in eight other suits.

The case, originally decided by the Government's favor by Federal Judge Kerkman in January, 1932, covers the pipeline taxes for 1919, 1920 and 1921.

Protest Tax Payment

The Standard Oil paid these taxes in March, 1924, under protest to John P. McLaughlin, then internal revenue collector. With interest they amounted to $1,619,113.

The oil company sued in September, 1927, to recover this sum, contending the tax was unjust.

LAMSON TO FIGHT FOR NEW TRIAL

SAN JOSE, Sept. 18.—UP.—A new trial will be asked for David Lamson tomorrow when the young sales manager of the Stanford University Press is sentenced to be hanged for the murder of his wife, Alice.

Judge R. R. Syer will pronounce the death sentence at 10 a. m. tomorrow. Execution probably will be set for December 15, 10 days before Christmas.

Defense attorneys indicated they would ask a new trial on grounds they have new evidence that someone other than David Lamson had been the slayer of his wife.

Lamson was sentenced to death in the trial that resulted in Lamson's conviction, the defense ignored persons willing to testify they had seen a "mysterious stranger" in the Lamson neighborhood on the day Alice was killed.

In addition to probable claims of new evidence, attorneys Edwin M. Rea and Maurice Rankin were expected to ask a new trial on grounds Judge Syer showed prejudice in not permitting Dr. E. O. Heinrich, defense criminologist, to describe the experiments he claimed (Continued on page 8)

TO EXECUTE KILLER OF H. JOHNSON

Convicted of the murder of Hartford Johnson, of Richmond, on October 19, 1932, Walter Jones, of Michigan, will be hanged at the Canon City, Colorado, prison during the week ending November 25.

This was the word brought by United Press wires from Denver to the Record-Herald last evening.

According to press reports, Jones was ordered executed along with three other men. They will be the last to be hanged by Colorado, as a recent session of the Colorado state legislature ordered substitution of lethal gas for the noose.

Jones and a companion, Conrad J. Nelson, were found guilty of the killing which occurred at Palisades, Colorado. Nelson was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The two men were accused of slaying Johnson with an axe in order to rob him of $75 in cash he carried on his person. The murder occurred on a freight train.

Johnson, who had been employed in Richmond for some time, had planned to visit the east. He was to hitch-hike to the east coast and then return.

While riding with Jones, Nelson and other transients on the train near Palisades, Jones and Nelson attacked him and killed him. They then attacked another youth who was with the party, throwing him off the train. He was slightly injured.

The injured transient walked to the nearest town where he notified police. A search was started, and Nelson and Jones were arrested.

Their trial, which was short and speedy, was held at Canon City last November. Both men were found guilty.

A difficulty arose, however, when the Colorado state legislature passed a bill, ordering that lethal gas be used for execution of murderers. The question then arose as to whether Jones and three other men sentenced to death would be hanged or suffocated in the gas chamber.

Yesterday, the supreme court of the state, ruled that Jones and the other three men convicted of murder, must hang. They will be the last to be executed on the gallows in Colorado.

Johnson was the husband of Mrs. Edith Johnson of 651 South Thirty-first street, Richmond. He was the father of two children, a girl and a boy.

Mrs. Johnson is employed by the telephone company as an operator and is well known throughout the city.

GIANTS MOVE TO
NEW ADVANTAGE
IN BIG LEAGUE

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—UP.—Although they lost their games, the Washington Senators and New York Giants moved closer to the championships in their respective leagues today.

One more Giant victory or a defeat for the Pittsburgh Pirates will give the pennant to the Giants in the National League. Two more Washington victories or two defeats for the Yankees will clinch the American league flag for the Senators.

The Giants moved into their commanding position as the Pittsburgh Pirates split a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Phillies. Had they not faltered after leading the St. Louis Cardinals, the Giants might now be champions. The Cards won 4-3.

The Pirates came from behind to stop the Senators for a time. With the score tied in the eighth at 2 all, Ted Gullie tripped with two on and scored the winning runs.

The Senators picked up their game because the Yankees split a doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox.

The Pirates captured the first game from the Phillies 2-1 added by Paul Waner's home run. Heavy hitting by Klein and Hurst gave the Phillies the verdict in the second 6-0.

The Cubs could have moved into second place ahead of the Pirates had they not lost to the Brooklyn Dodgers. 6-1. Johnny Frederick gave Van Mungo a lead to back on when he homered with one man on in the first inning.

A shower of extra base hits were influential in helping the Boston Braves whip the Cincinnati Reds 8-2. The Braves total included six doubles and three triples.

The Yankees won their first game from the Sox 6-1. The Sox captured the second 4 to 3. Lou Gehrig hit a homer in each game.

Philadelphia's Athletics trimmed the Detroit Tigers 9-8.

Oral Hildebrand turned in a two hit game as the Cleveland Indians subdued the Boston Red Sox 9-0. Hal Trosky's home run with two men on in the opening inning gave the Cleveland hurler an excellent lead.

The Standard Feed and Fuel Team Sunday took the measure of Louis Barbers by a score of 5 to 1 in a closely contested game Sunday at El Cerrito.

GAELS, CARDS
CALIFORNIA IN PRACTICE TILT

BERKELEY, Sept. 18.—UP.

The much-ballyhooed "New Attack" of the Golden Bears began to take shape today as Coach Bill Ingram pointed his squads for Saturday's clash with Santa Clara.

Edwards Field looked like a five-ring circus as varsity, amateur and freshman squads all worked out at the same time. Each group was divided into three teams. Ingram put in all his time with the three varsity teams, running them through a series of plays and dummy scrimmage.

Trick plays and long-shot plays were tried. Regardless of whether the California wide-open attack succeeds, it's going to be interesting.

Stanford, Sept. 18.—UP.—Thin Thornhill, new Stanford football coach, may be genial, but he's also a skeptic.

Today he ran five teams through

MORAGA, Sept. 18.—UP.

Edward Patrick Madigan seems slightly dazed today as he sent six football teams through dummy scrimmage.

All the boys are good, he said, and picking the 11 best has him puzzled.

The Bears today are ready for serious concentrated work. The task of putting in plays additional to those installed in spring practice was accomplished Saturday morning and afternoon in the first two workouts of the season. While Ingram is satisfied with what was accomplished the first day, he declares that, due to the too brief span of time between the opening day and the opening game, the California offense may be ragged in more than one spot, and the Bears will be forced to the limit to gain the victory they consider, for reasons known to all fans, to be necessary and highly desirable. Well-authenticated reports from Santa Clara indicate that M. J. "Clipper" Smith, Bronco coach, and his charges, have a strikingly similar viewpoint in entering the game.

Five generations will attend the reception. They are Mrs. Linnell, her son, Charles, his daughter, Mrs. S. L. Whitteley, 321 Twelfth street, her son Fred L. of Martinez, and his daughter, Beverly Jean.

Five grandchildren and three great grandchildren will attend the party.

Mrs. Linnell, then Abbie Dean, lived in Canada until she was 16 years old and married the late Sherman G. Linnell at Rockford, Illinois in 1852. Later she went to Wisconsin and then went to Iowa in a covered wagon. In 1861 Linnell joined the Union cavalry in the Civil War. Mrs. Linnell supported herself and children doing millinery work and dressmaking at West Union while her husband participated in the conflict.

Linnell died in 1871 and in 1891 Mrs. Linnell came to California and settled at Sacramento. She first came here in 1906 and after living here for 19 years she went to Long Beach. She returned here five years ago.

Living wasn't so easy back in the days of Mrs. Linnell's early life. Her first chair since she was married was made out of a barrel with ropes across for a seat and staves for back.

"I knit my own stockings when I was seven years old," she said, "and I had to spin yarn every day when I was 12."

Mrs. Linnell has two sons, L. E. Linnell of Venice and I. E. Linnell of Seattle, besides Charles Linnell.

COTTON MEN DEMANDING INFLATION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—UP—An inflation program to pump $400,000,000 in new currency into circulation was demanded today in a resolution adopted by a conference of southern cotton farmers and legislators.

The conference also demanded a government guarantee of 20 cents a pound for cotton next year with a maximum crop of 9,000,000 bales, and threatened a "redneck strike" by cotton farmers if both demands were not met.

The conference was held in the Gold Room of the Hamilton hotel, a location which Representative McSwain, Democrat, South Carolina, held inappropriate.

"They should have put us farmers in the Blue Room down the hall," he said, as he discussed the merit of inflation.

The resolution, adopted after a whole day of heated speech, making a mockery of the long night of Senators Thomas (Democrat) Oklahoma, and Smith (Democrat) South Carolina, for a cheaper dollar as the only hope of the debt-ridden farmer.

The white-haired Thomas, who acted as chairman of the resolution committee, drew cheers from his 200 listeners when he read these paragraphs of the resolution:

"Be it resolved that he respectfully petition you, the President of the United States, immediately to take steps for the inflation or expansion of the currency which power was granted to you by the last Congress to meet just such emergencies as now exist; that such a step is immediately necessary for the recovery of the price of cotton and all other farm products and to restore the buying power of the farmer."

"To bring about an immediate increase in commodity prices we suggest and recommend that you use the power conferred to issue and place in circulation United States notes. In support of such recommendation and petition we call your attention to the following facts:

"The nation is in an emergency in the sixties authorized, issued and placed in circulation some $400,000,000 in United States notes. Such notes, although not based on interest-bearing bonds, were in fact based upon all the property and taxing power of the government and that of the said $400,000,000 worth of said notes the sum of $346,000,000 are still in active circulation. We call your attention further to the fact that through the issuance of such non-interest-bearing notes the people to date have saved the total of over $11,000,000 in interest alone."

Indirect reference to the $100,000,000 issue of civil war days, it was explained, merely was the conference's diplomatic way of suggesting a sum for consideration. The conference was unanimous in belief that inflation by at least that amount was necessary, in speeches some of the delegates urged a $3,000,000,000 program.

"Unless the inflation is forthcoming unless 20 cent cotton is established by fiat and unless next year's crop is limited to 9,000,000 bales, the resolution made the following threat:

"Our only recourse will be to call upon you and our governors to close the mills and cottonseed oil mills as a matter of self preservation."

Cland Sapp of South Carolina went further in an impassioned address: "Unless this program goes thru," he said, "we farmers should stop selling our cotton. We should stop paying our taxes. We should stop paying our mortgages. We should stop everything until we get justice."

Sapp a lawyer-planter, then urged his listeners to indulge in "no radical talk" They smiled.

Speaking Of Sports

LAFAYETTE, Ind., UP—A wide open race for the Western Conference Football championship is in prospect, when the 1933 season opens. Coach Noble Kizer of Purdue University has predicted.

Practically every team in the Big Ten either will be stimulated by outstanding sophomore material or a nucleus of veterans, he said. "Michigan, by virtue of its hold-over talent, should rule a slight favorite."

Keen Title Fight
"I anticipate one of the keenest title fights in years with surprise the rule rather than the exception. Indiana, Minnesota and Wisconsin are most apt to provide the surprises."

"Ohio State will be a strong contender because of its veteran material."

"Northwestern must be considered a 'dark horse' until Coach Dick Hanley's sophomores have a chance to prove their worth under fire, Chicago with better material, should be much better under Clark Smaughnessy and will have an opportunity to develop slowly since they do not play their first conference game until Oct. 21."

Big Powerful Team
Kizer said Minnesota has prospects for a big, powerful team, ideally suited to Coach Rierman's defense. And although Wisconsin lost considerably by graduation, Coach Spars has a number of good sophomores and the Badgers should constitutional, that it was a direct levy on transportation facilities, that the internal revenue commissioner was granted the power of Congress to fix taxes, that the company was given no chance for a hearing and that the amount of taxes was not fixed until after the repeal of the revenue act of 1918.

Other Cases Pending

As similar law points are involved in eight other cases against the three oil companies and the Southern Pacific, the case was bitterly fought before Judge Kerrigan by a battery of powerful attorneys, who were opposed by only George J. Hatfield, then United States Attorney and Es. ther Phillips, tax attorney of his state.

The Standard Oil's appeal was heard in the Circuit court last November by Presiding Judge Curtis D. Wilbur, Circuit Judge William H. Sawtelle and District Judge John C. Cavanaugh of Idaho.

Following yesterday's decision H. H. McPike, United States attorney, announced the other eight tax cases would be pressed vigorously.

he title contenders, he added. "Judging from reports from Bloomington, Indiana has the best prospects in years, with a number of highly touted sophomores supplementing veteran material, but I should may provide a stumble block."

"Iowa should be stronger with an effective offense developed by Coach Ossie Solem, while Illinois showed improvement all last year and should carry on under the veteran Bob Zuppke."

POPULAR LOCAL COUPLE QUIETLY MARRIED SUNDAY

Miss Marguerite Elizabeth Erickson, of Richmond, and Arthur A. Reinecker, of El Cerrito, were quietly married at a ceremony performed at Trinity Lutheran church by Rev. A. W. Koehler on Sunday evening.

Prior to the ceremony, Miss Elsa Reinecker sang two selections. The wedding march was played by the church organist, Miss Pansy Oschner. The church was banked with vari-colored asters (the bride's birthday flower), and ferns.

Comprising the bridal party were Miss Elsa Reinecker, sister of the bridegroom, as maid of honor; Miss Alma Klalber, as bridesmaid; and Carl Klalber as best man. Walter Nicolayson and Clarence Erickson were ushers.

The bride was attractive in a gown of white satin with train and puffed sleeves. On her head was a turban with short veil and orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of orchids, white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Reinecker wore pale green trimmed in lace and carried pink roses. Miss Klalber's gown was of pale yellow, and her bouquet was of lily-of-the-valley.

Several out-of-town relatives witnessed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Erickson home on Gaynor avenue, attended by 80 relatives and friends. A buffet supper was served. The house was also banked with asters.

The couple are now on a honeymoon at an unannounced destination, and upon their return in a week will take up their residence in an Oakland apartment.

Both young couple were born and raised in Richmond and graduated from the Richmond schools. They have been active in Trinity Lutheran church circles.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Erickson of 2831 Gaynor avenue, has been connected with the office force of Sears and Roebuck in Oakland.

Reinecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reinecker of 1510 Navarler street, El Cerrito, is connected with the Oakland Iron Works. He has won several trophies in motor boat racing in the past several months.

Four are Held By Police in Probe

Possession of pistols and a roll of money resulted in the arrest of four persons on Sunday evening.

The four gave their names as Clarence Brown, 32, of 1233 Carleton street, Berkeley; his wife, Gladys Brown, same address; Roland Fitchue, 50, of 4011 Campbell street, Oakland, and his wife, Ethel Fitchue, 47, same address. All four are colored.

The four were placed under arrest Sunday night when the officers searched their car and found the pistol and the silver rolled in paper wrappers. According to police they were unable to explain the pistol or why they were carrying the money in rolls.

The officers stopped the car when they saw it proceeding down San Pablo avenue in an erratic manner.

Three Youths Held In Holdup Attempt

Three youths who were being held in El Cerrito yesterday for investigation as a result of an alleged attempt to rob the H. P. Burpee Service station at Stockton and San Pablo, were turned over to Berkeley police yesterday where they will face charges of robbery of a service station.

The three youths gave their names as William Randolph 20; Curtis D. Randolph 22, and Jack Cook 21, all of Tucson, Ariz.

The three are declared to have admitted to police that it was they who rifled the cash register of a Berkeley service station and made their escape with $19.

Your Good HEALTH

By CLAUD N. CHRISMAN, M.D.

Children Often Place Things in Their Ears And Noses

FOREIGN bodies in either the ear or the nose are not at all uncommon. They are at times the source of great pain and discomfort and occasionally of very serious consequences.

smaller at the middle than at each end, which fortunately stops outside objects from slipping back to the drum.

THE signs of obstruction of this channel are deafness, ringing in the ear, a feeling of pressure and sometimes quite severe pain. One of the most common obstructions is when the natural discharge from the mucous membranes gets mixed with dust, and dries, making a hard dry plug which sometimes fills the entire channel. This will cause deafness and ringing and is likely to cause severe rawness and disease of the mucous membrane.

DURING my first year of practice as a doctor an elderly lady came to my office complaining that she had become hard of hearing five or six years before and it was getting worse. She was almost totally deaf. I looked carefully into her ear channels and found them full of wax. Thinking I might help her hearing a little, I started to wash out the hardened wax. After considerable washing, a mass came out fully an inch long, making a complete cast of the channel. Almost immediately she spoke to me quite sharply, telling me not to talk so loud as it hurt her ear. I washed out both ears and her hearing was almost entirely restored. I was as much surprised and gratified as she was. For several weeks after that I saw all the deaf cases in the neighborhood, each one expecting to be cured. It's needless to say I did not cure all of them. Almost all kinds of things are found in the ear. Shoe buttons, pieces of matches, plugs of cotton, peas, beans, insects, almost anything.

ONE case that puzzled me was a navy bean that had evidently been in the ear for weeks. Its glistening white skin looked like the ear drum. The entire ear was very painful and very deaf. I first thought it was an inflamed middle ear trouble, but it was too white and seemed so close to the outside. In examining it a piece of the skin of the bean came off, and then they remembered that the child had told them some weeks before that it had put a bean in its ear. It had swollen from the moisture and become so soft that it was readily cut up and washed out.

FOREIGN bodies in the ear can only be washed out with a syringe and warm water, or picked out with a forceps, but it is so easy to damage the eardrum of the ear and cause serious trouble that only a physician should attempt its removal.

FOREIGN bodies in the nose are usually more easily moved as the channel is larger and more elastic, but I have had some very difficult cases. The floor of the nose is straight back from the entrance and objects can be pushed back and fall into the throat if they cannot be removed with a forceps. Children slip all imaginable things in the nostrils and when they hurt are often frightened and will not tell what they know.

ONE case I saw, that had fooled one physician and was discovered quite by accident was in a three-year-old boy who had commenced to have a very foul discharge from one nostril. There was great pain with swelling and fever. The child was taken to a physician about ten days after the trouble started, and he feared the youngster would have to be operated on for an abscess. I saw the case and thought the same thing, but in my examination the supposed abscess caught on my instrument and I pulled out a folded red rubber band of the kind used in sling shots about three inches long. The abscess disappeared.

ANOTHER boy was brought in with both nostrils closed and congested. Examination showed ten ball bearings from his roller skates which he had pushed up his nose and then would not tell what he had done. These are all very childish tricks but can be the cause of serious and sometimes permanent trouble.

RIGHT POSTURE IS NECESSARY AID TO HEALTH

By JACQUELINE HUNT

DO YOU feel a bit tired and nervous and let-down just now at the tag-end of summer?

If your diet is all right and your habits of living are regular then the fault probably lies with your posture. If your job requires that you spend a good deal of time on your feet, you will become so tired that you do not care what happens when you make one of those ugly "dowager humps" on the back of your neck.

Being able to stand and stand correctly is an art. Holding yourself properly will give you confidence and will prevent you from developing a protruding stomach, a double chin, a sway back or one of those ugly "dowager humps" on the back of your neck.

Your pelvic bone forms a neat little box into which your organs fit perfectly when you stand correctly. The proper way to stand is with the region often referred to as the "hips" tucked neatly under you, the small of your back pushing out and your feet allow your back to sway in, the pelvis girdle is tipped forward and the organs are misplaced.

Such a position leads to strain and everything about you shows it—your face, your nerves and your temper. Practice sitting and standing correctly and you will be less tired at the end of the day. When you get home at night, form the habit of lying down for at least a half hour with your feet propped higher than your head. You will feel greatly refreshed.

If your position demands that you sit at a desk most of the day, then you must take some exercises to keep your waistline trim and flexible. Use those particular muscles that call into play the muscles of your hips and thighs, or go to a pool and swim or walk or play tennis. Exercise is beneficial even when you feel tired and you could drop and hot and uninterested. Exercises are restful because they allow your muscles and nerves to relax after a brief routine.

The right kind of a foundation garment is also a great aid to correct posture. It helps hold your tummy where it belongs and makes your hips less conspicuous, so your curves are more becoming. The latest ones are very light, cool and elastic.

ANSWER TO QUERY

"Dear Miss Hunt: Can you tell me how to clean my hair without shampooing it? Due to illness, I am afraid to risk a soap and water shampoo, but my hair is so oily and soiled that I must do something.—F. G."

ANSWER: If you must postpone a regular soap and water shampoo, then I suggest that you take a clean, soft towel and, parting your hair into one strand at a time, polish it vigorously with the towel. You can also cleanse your scalp in the same way. After rubbing your hair thoroughly, give it a good brushing and finally go through it with a fine-toothed comb to remove any remaining lint or dust. Give your hair this treatment every day and your hair will look clean and feel clean and lustrous. Give your hair an extra bit of brushing every night to prevent its suffering from your illness. Hair, more than anything else, depends on the health of the body for its beauty.

MODES AND MANNERS

QUESTION: "I am to be married at a church wedding and should like to know what time to tell the ushers to be on hand at the church.—H. S. R."

ANSWER: The ushers should be at the church one hour before the time set for the ceremony.

QUESTION: "How should an usher at a church wedding show the woman guest to her seat? How should he show a woman guest to her seat when she is accompanied by a male companion? When there are several women in a group, how does he take them to their seats?—T. P."

ANSWER: The usher takes a woman guest by the arm and shows her to her seat. He does the same when she is accompanied by a man. They go down the aisle first, the male companion following after. When several women are in a party, the usher takes the woman of the eldest in the group. If they are all of about the same age, the problem is solved by his taking the arm of the nearest one and starting forward, with the others coming along behind.

:: SPEAKING OF STYLE ::

By IRENE VAIL

Next winter's coats are to be easy if Monsieur Jacques Helmi's theory is followed. The coat at left from this collection is of bright red woolen with pebbly surface, and black galeys; the other is of taupe woolen and harmonizing natural fox, with inset girdle of orange kasha.

New York—The shirtwaist dress continues to be a favorite, occasionally with some of the new broad shoulder treatment, just as often kept plain and tailored. There are a great many coat dresses, but this year the broad shoulder treatments give them a new look. Quite a few have the "dowager hump" that extends around the back of the waistline and these treatments with buttoned skirt elements.

The silhouette is following the trend of the more formal costumes in that the shoulders are broadened and given light in innumerable ways, and from the shoulders down the lines are kept slender.

Lacquered textures are "in" for fall sportswear. Maybe the consciousness of dull textures during the past few seasons has caused a reversal of interest toward things lustrous in sports-wear, as seen in the lacquered synthetic jersey bathing suits and the dotted satins in sports dresses that have come forward this summer.

In any event, there is early fall emphasis on combining the sport with suit. Satins, according to early reports, are going into trimmings of sports frocks and from abroad come knitted dresses with lacquered trimmings.

Manish Tweeds

The story of manish tweeds which looked up as best-sellers during the spring woolen season has not been forgotten in fall planning. Harris tweeds in men's wear patterns are being ordered in plenty in quantities for travel, sports and around-town jacket suits, sweater suits and topsuits. The pattern choices are herringbone, checks and neat plain plaids. There are new color combinations like oxford, taupe and navy tones as well as heathery greens, blues, ambers with contrasting and brilliant flecks. Shades of green are thoroughly in harmony with the late Victorian picture fashion is restoring for us.

Tasty Dishes for Today

DELICIOUS SOUP MOST WELCOME

By JUDITH WILSON

SOME women do not feel that their dinners can set off to a good start without a tasty hot soup to give a favorable first impression. If your home is one where soup appears frequently on the menu, then make a specialty of soup. Have it unusual, whenever you can—other times have it so good and so rich that it is a delicious meal in itself.

Soup Suggestions

Vegetables, fresh and flavorful, are good soup suggestions while the fruit soups are rapidly gaining in popularity. A point in the favor of fruit soups is that they are so tart and interesting in flavor that they serve as both appetizer and soup.

Use Fresh Greens

While miscellaneous odds and ends from your refrigerator can go into the vegetable cream soup, it is better if fresh vegetables are used. Clean and prepare four large potatoes, one onion, one bunch celery and three carrots, and put them through coarse food chopper. Cook two slices of bacon on bottom of saucepan until they are crisp, pour vegetables over them, add two quarts of water, salt and pepper to taste. Simmer slowly for one hour, then strain through a coarse sieve, add one cup rich milk or cream, minced parsley and serve hot. This makes six servings.

Deviled Crabmeat

Deviled crabmeat makes the not-too-heavy entree that follows the substantial vegetable soup. Flake the contents of a medium sized can of crabmeat, add one-half cup sharp mustard pickles chopped fine, including the mustard sauce that is on them; then add one-eighth cup bread crumbs and one cup medium white sauce. Mix well, place in a buttered baking dish, cover with one-eighth cup bread crumbs and bake in a moderate oven about twenty minutes or until heated thoroughly and crumbs are browned. This can also be baked in individual ramekins. This makes four servings.

Blueberry Soup

For the blueberry soup, pick over three cups of blueberries and wash them well. Add six cups water, one stick cinnamon and one and one-half cups sugar to them and cook over a medium fire until berries are soft. Strain and put back on fire. Add one-quarter cup of water to two tablespoons cornstarch and mix well. Pour into soup, stir-

Softened cream cheese with a spoon, add water-cress and season with lemon juice, and you have a sandwich spread which you should be proud to serve between dainty sandwiches. The perfect fill in between more substantial slices, and this filling will serve ideally for a picnic lunch.

Have you ever tried peanut butter mixed with honey as a sandwich spread? It is nutritious and delicious. The perfect sandwich to take along when there are children in the party.

Change the character of sandwiches by using different breads for the same filling. Whole wheat, raisin bread, nut bread, white, rye, gluten, plain whole-wheat bread. Change the combination and you have changed the sandwich, thereby adding greater variety to a picnic luncheon.

Avoid making sandwiches broadly by using thin slices of bread and a generous quantity of filling.

This simple frock is made ornate by the ermine tails which define the cr- ed line of the two scarf ends that are tossed back to cover the shoulders and form a square collar at the back.

PROFILES For Today

Key Pittman Has Faith In Silver . . . The King Who Handled a Pickax

ONE of the concrete achievements of the recent London Economic Conference was an agreement to do something about silver. And the man who was most responsible for restricting silver sales is none other than the picturesque Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee.

As a young attorney in Seattle, Key Pittman joined the gold rush to Alaska. His search for silver was very successful, and this may or may not have had something to do with his love for silver.

In Nome, Alaska, young Key Pittman was a district attorney and he helped form a government in this northern frontier city. Such writers as Rex Beach and Jack London and other authors found him such an interesting character that they put into their stories of the northland.

These four or five years spent in Alaska doubtless were the "keynotes" upon which Senator Pittman laid his future career. Up in Nome he was one of the first political bosses. He helped create the "consent government" which ruled the frontier town in lieu of a more formal type of government. He was said to be the first practicing attorney in Nome and had a large following, for during his two years as a gold miner he had made many friends. Those years followed him to the Senate in this younger man who had been one of them and who possessed a "silver tongue" and much "book learning."

After a few years in Alaska, Mr. Pittman migrated to Topeka, Kansas, and entered politics. He was elected United States senator from that state in 1912 and has served in Congress since.

At the conference in London, Senator Pittman from the first day argued and maneuvered for a silver agreement that would boost the price of this white metal and bring cheer to the silver producers of the Far West. In his opinion, "gold remains the measure of value, but a real and stable value is restored to silver, which is the money of half the world's population."

Whether or not the "Father of the United States," George Washington, chopped down that cherry tree has been a disputed question recently, but whether he did or not, it's a grand story. Mohammed Nadir Shah Ghazi, King of Afghanistan, knows his people as sort of a George Washington. He recently emulated the original George Washington by taking up a pick-ax and setting an active example to 20 million workers in preparing the site for the new royal military academy. The long history of Afghanistan has been stormy. It has been overrun and invaded from time to time, as far back as Alexander the Great. It was the gateway for the Mongol invasions of India in later centuries. Finally, in modern times, the British, but the fierce Afghans have never been subdued.

Preceding Mohammed Nadir as King was Amanullah, whose father, Habibullah, was assassinated. The deposed Amanullah was a visionary. He attempted to westernize the country and start the rudiments of industry. But the hillmen, hide-bound and superstitious, were suspicious of foreigners, resented this progress, Mohammedan high priests, on whose toes Amanullah was treading, urged them to oppose Amanullah's attempts to make Afghan men wear pants and hats instead of the native dress, unveil women and introduce such modern contraptions as automobiles were disastrous. A bandit named Bacha Sakao tumbled him from his throne. Sakao didn't last long, for Nadir gathered his forces and as he advanced on the capital the bandit king fled to the safety of the Russian border.

The hillmen and natives like their new king, for he has no new-fangled ideas. They liked him so well that in the short period of two months they helped him level an area of sixty acres on which the new royal Afghan military academy will stand.

Novelty Oxfords

Bootmakers are busily engaged turning out novelty oxfords and shoes that are going to cover the steps next winter. They are going to have from one to five eyelets, or believe it or not, buttons. And this again makes me tell you that slippers are to be brightly buckled. The shoe buckle, long absent from the scene, is being introduced on slippers and pumps intended for going places calling for one's best foot forward. Mirror glass is one of the novelties.

SELF CONTROL IS THE RULE FOR HARMONY

By MARIAN MAYES MARTIN

WHY is it that wives so often make scenes, and upbraid their erring husbands in public? There is never any excuse for such behavior. No matter how much provocation a wife may have, and many of them have plenty, it is never justifiable to wash one's linen in public. To begin with, it is not only an ill-brething to do but brings embarrassment to those unfortunate who happen unwittingly to be listening to the tirade. Such an undignified exhibition on the part of the wife gains sympathy for the husband, even though she may be in the right in every other respect than in making the scene.

WOMEN create this sort of disturbance more than men. When husbands wax indignant and feel impelled to do a little dressing down of their wives, they rarely are guilty of making a public demonstration. Their method is, to say nothing in public, and say a great deal in private. One must admit that it is the best method. If it had form to call a servant down before a third party, what possible excuse can one find for calling down one's husband before a third and sometimes a fourth party.

THERE is nothing that enrages a man more than having his wife make a scene, and nothing that so successfully drives wedges between them. Some men will just walk out on a scene and never even listen, let alone grant the apology that is nearly always forthcoming when the ladies' spleen has been spent. Other long-suffering males seem to believe that women just naturally make scenes and that they must be lived through and lived down as best one can. The fact of the matter is that, women who are given to scenes should be suppressed, at once and taught the first time they put on their act, that it just can't be done. Otherwise they will continue the practice. Women are like that, taught they cannot get away with it they will have control. Knowing they can indulge their histrionics, they will indulge them getting more and more kick out of the resulting excitement and confusion.

SHREWISH, ill-tempered wives are not a social asset. Even if the husband is willing to stand for their nonsense, their mutual friends most emphatically are not. Men react in one or two ways, they either crawl into their shell and never go anywhere, or they go anywhere and everywhere—alone.

WE ALL know men can be very trying at times, but public punishment, or a public recital of one's private wrongs, is worse than no help at all for a situation, no matter how unpleasant. One cannot help but be moved to sympathy for the husband, on such an occasion, even though one has a suspicion that there is a good deal of ground for the complaints made. It is the ruthless tearing aside of the curtain which decent folk put between themselves and the public that shocks us and instinctively wins our sympathy for the one so cruelly exposed.

IF WIVES would only realize that they were defeating their own cause by such conduct, if they could only realize too, how much they were revealing, how much of ugly jealousy, and how much of inferiority they were acknowledging. We have all seen little bickerings, or bantling started half in jest work up to a fit of hysteria, have watched wives lash themselves until they have gotten beyond their own control and gone farther than they had intended. While the husband has tried valiantly to ward off the storm. Usually there is no diverting the poor, misguided woman. She seems determined to go anywhere, and is so beside herself that she does not realize that it has been wreaked on her, and no one else.

CHILDREN who have tantrums and have to be carted screaming from the scene are an unlovely spectacle, but they may be excused on the ground of not knowing any better. Women do know better. They are making a spectacle of themselves and to humiliate their husbands and embarrass their friends. If they are permitted to get away with it, they do continue to go into their act until finally they are left in empty houses, with no husband to incite them to fury. When will they learn that scenes are not just being done in polite circles?

CHEST DRIVE WILL END ON WEDNESDAY

The fourth annual appeal of the Richmond Community Chest opened the new week yesterday with volunteer workers scouring the city for the subscriptions which will put the campaign over the top within the next forty-eight hours.

The latest report last night showed that $8,000 has been collected, and the industrial plants, yet to be heard from.

Aubrey Wilson, general chairman said progress appears satisfactory on all fronts, and that there is every indication that the fourth annual effort will be ended successfully by Wednesday of this week. He pointed out that the campaign was scheduled to run a week and that most of the workers did not take the field until Wednesday or last week, which would make the effort and practically on schedule time.

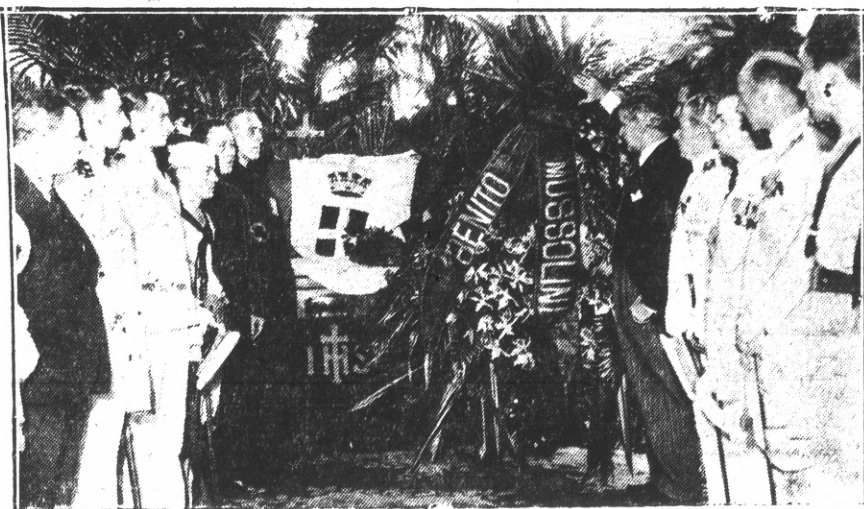

While the response in most quarters appears to be satisfactory, Wilson warned against over confidence and urged that the citizens in general give full heed to the needs of several local agencies for emergency relief and character building activities and is the barest minimum upon which these organizations can carry on their work during the period ahead, he declared. The chest is the only source from which they can derive the necessary funds.

The women's residential divisions the business divisions, the plant employees and the special gifts committee are all pressing their work to a rapid and successful conclusion. It was announced. Daily report meetings are to be held at the headquarters, and Wednesday will see the final figure announced. In the opinion of the general committee donors are being urged to give at least fifty per cent of the donation of last year, with the object of placing the final figure for the campaign at $20,000. In several quarters it is known that the 50 per cent figure will be easily exceeded.

Under terms of the agreement, the North Pacific export equalization Association will be organized to sell the 10,000,000-bushel wheat surplus in the northwest. Losses from such sales of grain or flour will be met out of the government processing tax fund.

El Cerrito Man Lost in Wilds of Sierra Nevadas

A searching party at Yosemite valley last night was hunting for Anthony Bena, 50, of 402 Huber avenue, El Cerrito, a Pullman company employee who has been lost for three days while on a hunting expedition with several El Cerrito and Richmond men.

The hunting party started to search for Bena early Sunday when he failed to return to camp Saturday night after having become separated from other members of the party Saturday morning. Fear was held that he had fallen over a cliff or had been injured.

Bena is married and has two daughters. The family was notified today that Bena had become lost.

MORE WORK IS PLANNED AT DOG TRACK

The request of J. J. Jerome of the El Cerrito Kennel club to the council, El Cerrito at its meeting Monday night, that he be allowed to work the nine special officers four or five days, in order to give more employment, was referred to Police Commissioner Hans M. Nissen for investigation.

In order to work the nine officers six days a week as ordered by the council at its last meeting it has been necessary to place them in other positions outside other employees to lose their jobs.

Under the new plan the officers will work a shorter week and the old employees put back to work.

On the suggestion of Street Commissioner Peter Larson the council instructed City Attorney T. H. DeLap to find out if there was a city ordinance allowing the removal of weeds on the highways and assess the cost to the property.

A copy of a letter from Deputy State Fire Marshal Charles H. Smith, which was sent to J. Russell Smith, that allegations he made in the building at 6122 Potrero avenue, was read and placed on file.

Improvements asked to be made were the addition of doors, widening of aisles and installation of fire extinguishers in order to lessen the fire hazard.

In answer to a communication for financial aid for the Bay Scout, the council ordered that a letter be written the campaign committee stating the city could not legally help, but the individual councilmen would do their part.

The request for aid was made by the campaign committee, consisting of A. H. MacKinnon, A. O. Burnett and Earl Corey.

Application of the McCutcheon Transportation Co. to construct a storage tank for fueling trucks at Alameda and San Pablo avenues was referred to City Attorney T. H. DeLap.

Wounded Deer is Battled by Man In Oregon Woods

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Sept. 18.—UP—Bulldozing an enraged buck deer to prevent it from goring him to death was reported here today by Glenn Terrell, secretary of the Klamath Sportsmen's Association.

Hunting near Medicine Lake Sunday, Terrell's companions put two bullets in a mule deer.

The deer hid behind a tree until Terrell, tracking it, came within a few feet. Then it charged, stabbing the hunter in the hip and knocking his gun from his hands.

Terrell seized the wounded animal by the head, fitted his body between its horns and held the animal until help came.

Transfer Plan For Stock Co. Given Board

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 18.—UP—Stockholders in the defunct Union Savings & Loan association today presented two alternative plans to the suggestion that its assets be transferred to O. B. Berrian and associates of Salt Lake City.

Opposing the suggestion of C. H. Corey, state corporation commissioner, the two groups favored retention of the assets within the state. The three plans were submitted to Circuit Judge Tucker.

One group asked return of the association to stockholders, who would reorganize it as a savings and loan association. The second recommended the assets be sold to the Benefit Savings & Loan Assn. of Portland.

PLANNING ORDINANCE PROTESTED

Legislation to whether the county board of supervisors will adopt an ordinance governing real estate subdivisions and plat maps was postponed for two weeks yesterday following a hearing on the proposal at Martinez.

The ordinance was placed before the supervisors two weeks ago by the county planning commission and when it was again taken up for discussion Colonel M. M. Garrett of Lafayette filed a protest to its passage as it now stands.

Garrett protested that any man has the constitutional right to sell his own property in any size and for any price, he wants and that the ordinance violates Article 14 of the constitution which provides that no person may be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law.

The speaker stated that he would not raise his voice against any ordinance that District Attorney J. P. Hovey might write, but contended that the ordinance before the board was written by people not familiar with the needs of this county.

Hovey, who was present, told the supervisors that he had passed on the present ordinance, and that he didn't think any of the provisions were unconstitutional.

The matter was put over for two weeks, however, until the reditors and the district attorney could prepare several sections to work less of a hardship upon the farmers.

LEVINSKY IS WINNER OVER FORMER KING

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—UP—Jack Sharkey in an attempted comeback was given a rude jolt tonight when King Levinsky, 23 year old Chicago ex-fish peddler, hammered his way to a 10 round victory over the former heavyweight champion.

A crowd estimated at 20,000 paid $52,996 to see Sharkey make his first ring appearance since he lost his title to Primo Carnera last summer.

The paid attendance was 20,317, but nearly 10,000 stormed their way in over the wall and at other ungarded points.

The decision was unanimous with Referee Thomas and two judges all making it in Levinsky's favor.

In the first 30 seconds of fighting Levinsky dropped the ex-champion with a wild right swing. Jack dropped with a thud but shook his head and came up to a sitting position, where he took a count of seven before getting back to his feet.

Sharkey weighed 201, Levinsky 205. It was the heaviest Levinsky has weighed.

LAMSON TO FIGHT FOR NEW TRIAL

proved Mrs. Lamson died in an accidental fall.

Defense plans for an appeal to the State Supreme Court were made in conferences between Lamson and his attorneys. Taking the appeal will automatically postpone execution pending a verdict by the high court.

Indications, Lamson's attorneys would attempt to turn to the theory that a stranger murdered Mrs. Lamson came following revelations that the jury ignored the accident theory.

Jurors said 11 of them disregarded the accident theory from the first.

They "acted out" a possible accident, arranging chairs in positions of furniture in the Lamson bathroom. They practiced falling against the chairs.

In trying to convince themselves an accident was possible, they persuaded the one holdout that Mrs. Lamson could not have died in a fall as the defense claimed.

George Peterson, foreman of the convicting jury, said Lamson "virtually convicted himself."

"If Lamson hadn't washed his wife's body after he killed her, and put it back in the tub, he would not have been convicted," Peterson said.

He revealed the jurors gave little consideration to the questions of premeditation or motive.

Not like any other cigarette

The United States Government granted Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company the right to use "Chesterfield" for cigarettes

THIS means that the Chesterfield formula—that is, the leaf and the manufacturing formula—is different from that of other cigarettes.

For a cigarette to be milder and to taste better, it has to have in it ripe, mild, mellow tobacco, and the right quantity of the right kinds of Turkish tobacco. Then the cigarette has to be made right.

You can prove for yourself that Chesterfields are not like other cigarettes. They're milder... they taste better.
